

The way to change other's minds is with affection, and not anger. -Dalai Lama-	I've learned that people will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel. -Maya Angelou-	If you want peace, you don't talk to your friends. You talk to your enemies. -Desmond Tutu-	Don't be in such a hurry to condemn a person because he doesn't do what you do, or think as you think or as fast. There was a time when you didn't know what you know today." - Malcolm X-
Criticism, like rain, should be gentle enough to nourish a man's growth without destroying his roots. -Frank A Clark-	It's very easy to go into a room where you have disparate opinions and blow it apart...What's really hard is to go into a room where you have disparate opinions and bring people together. - Lee Hamilton-	We have to face the fact that either all of us are going to die together or we are going to learn to live together. And if we are going to learn to live together, we will have to talk. -Eleanor Roosevelt-	It may make your blood boil and your mind may not be changed, but the practice of listening to opposing views is essential for effective citizenship. It is essential for our democracy. -Barack Obama-
If you would win a man to your cause, first convince him that you are his sincere friend. Therein is a drop of honey that catches his heart, which ... is the great highroad to his reason, and when once gained, you will find but little trouble in convincing his judgment of the justice of your cause. - Abraham Lincoln-	L'homme sage ne donne pas les bonnes réponses, il pose les bonnes questions. The wise man doesn't give the right answers, he poses the right questions. ~Claude Levi-Strauss~	After nourishment, shelter and companionship, stories are the thing we need most in the world. -Philip Pullman-	The human mind is a story processor, not a logic processor. -Jonathan Haidt-
Civility does not ... mean the mere outward gentleness of speech cultivated for the occasion, but an inborn gentleness and desire to do the opponent good. -Mahatma Gandhi-	We have two ears and one mouth so that we can listen twice as much as we speak. - Epictetus-	There is a voice that doesn't use words. Listen. - Rumi-	Civility costs nothing, and buys everything. -Mary Wortley Montagu-
